Subject: Dico Demolition

FYI – I talked to Hylton Jackson this morning. He informed me that a demolition company had called IDNR about information on the buildings at Dico and what they would need to do to demolish them. Hylton did not talk to them directly, but heard about it afterward. He did not know who the demo company works with or why they called IDNR, but I thought I'd share what he shared with me. I don't know any more about this beyond what is in the e-mail.

He did say that he'd drive by at lunch and let me know if there was any equipment on site and would keep me informed.
